Overview:

Syntropic CoreLab provides comprehensive, non-invasive vascular diagnostic education for technologists. This course will improve vascular sonographers' existing scanning skills, leading to consistent, high-quality image acquisition. Our faculty of physicians and experienced sonographers lead a variety of courses to cover all the major vascular beds. Courses will be comprised of both didactics & hands-on training. Trainees will get an opportunity to better understand the nuances of appropriate scanning techniques during live, volunteer-patient scanning. Training will include one day at our state-of-the-art medical education facility in Columbus.
